I have a strong passion for Frontend development, specializing in JavaScript, React, CSS and HTML. Self-development and learning are two qualities I pride myself on. With the aid of online boot camp 'Scrimba', I have managed to successfully take the leap from Guitar Tutor to Frontend developer. I take a great deal of enjoyment in learning new languages and implementing newly found knowledge to solve problems creatively. Working as a music tutor has taught me that problems often have multiple different solutions. I am currently invested in refining my JavaScript knowledge and picking up basic PHP and SQL.
